Details of safety observation:	The helmet kept on the petrol tank of a moving bike fell off while climbing the ramp and rolled under my car. I had seen the bike while entering, but on hearing the noise it wasn't clear where the bike itself skidded off. I stopped the car immediately still slanting on the ramp. The biker simply got down and took his helmet and rode away without any remorse. I could only honk, still stopping the car from looing down!
